"Neutrality is no longer feasible nor desirable where the peace of the world is involved and the freedom of its peoples is at stake. Today Germany stands as a menace to the world's peace, while freedom lies at the mercy of and depends for its continued existence upon the dictation of autocratic governments backed by organized force.

NO QUARREL WITH GERMAN PEOPLE

we no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling towards them but sympathy imbeription to the public exclusively in and friendship, but with Prussian autocracy we can never be friends. That autocracy filled our company proposed for acquiring and ed to these shores were sent only to prepare for war with us.

"We are now about to accept the gage of battle with the natural foe of liberty and we shall, if necessary, spend the whole force of this nation to nullify the pretension and the power of that foe.

"We are glad thus to fight for the ultimate peace of the world and for the liberation of its peoples, the Germans included. We attest this challenge to combat for the rights of all nations, great and small, for the privilege that men everywhere shall choose their own way and be masters of their great magnitude. "We will conduct our operations as a belligerent without passion and we will observe with proud punctilio the principles of right and of fair play.

"Austro-Hungary, having avowed her unqualified endorsement of the reckless, lawless submarine warfare of Germany, it is therefore impossible for the government of the United States to receive Count von Tarnowski as an ambassador, and I take the liberty of suggesting that you post-pone your decision as to our relations with Vienna.

"We shall have our opportunity to prove our friendship towards the German people in our daily attitude towards the millions of persons of German birth and native sympathy who live amongst us. Most of them are as true and loyal Americans as though they had known no other fealty and owed no other allegiance. They have already been prompt to rebuke and restrain those few among them of different mind and purpose to their own."

The President concluded with the percention quoted above.

ploy all the resources of the country to carry on the war against Germany and to bring it to a successful conclusion.

Immediately following the introduction of the resolutions, they were referred to the foreign affairs committees, and the house and senate then adjourned until this morning.

The senate committee, on foreign affairs, which has charge of the resolution declaring war upon Germany, plans to move forward as speedily as possible, without waiting for the action of the house. Senator Hitchcock, who is the ranking Democratic senator on the committee, next to the chairman, Senator Stone, one of the leaders in the famous filibuster that balked the wishes of the counry some weeks ago, will take the place of the chairman on the floor of the senate, and will manage the debate. This move has been taken owing to Stone's well known and often repeated opposition to the war. Stone has declared that he is against the resolution and will combat it, but that if the senate approves and the crossed the border than have returned, nation declares war against Germany he "will strongly support the it is reported they have been sent by President in anything he may deem proper."

The house is preparing to speed the resolution also. Nothing is to be allowed to interfere with its movement through the routine channels to the floor of the house and passage, for the house is solid behind the President and the voice of the country, following the fillbuster, is still echoing in the ears of the representatives. and there is not the faintest suggestion of opposition to the President's

The resolution of Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, which declares that the "grandeur and dignity of the United States are such" that they will not permit this country's "share in the war to be borne by other nations," may be incorporated in the pending resolution.

This capital was the scene of wild demonstrations all day yesterday, the avenues leading to the Capitol being crowded with the thousands who have reached here to make a demonstrations against and for a declaration of war and with the other thousands who have gathered in from nearby cities to be witnesses to what were expected to be epoch-marking events.

The pacificist demonstrators gathered to the number of several thousands, and the members of congress had to run numerous cordons when making their way to the Capitol. Opposed to these, and in some instances, violently opposed, were the thousands of "Pılgrims of Patriotism," from New York principally, each pilgrim wearing the Stars and Stripes.

and this may be done, but whether these are to be brought to this island or not cannot be stated authoritatively. The probabilities are that they will not.

Orders for the mobilitation of the First Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, are expected within the near future. The opinion of officers is that it will be delayed longer than at first believed. All arrangements for a quick mobilitation are perfected, and the regiment, with the various separate companies, can be gathered together at the armory within an hour after the order is signed. The various first sergeants have each telephone lists of the men in their commands, and an order from the colonel can be passed to the majors and on down to the first sergeants with the minimum of telephoning.

Such At Least Is Report That Reached Washington From the Mexican Border

WASHINGTON, April 3-Despatches WASHINGTON, April 3—Despatches from the Mexican border last night announced that reports have reached Junez, just across the river from El Paso, declaring that a truce between General Villa's forces and the Carranzistas arranged between Villa and Carranza's general, Murguia, under the terms of which both sides are to unite in an attack on the United States when the United States goes to war with Germany.

El Paso also reports a remarkable exodus of Mexicans across the border into Mexico within the past two weeks. German agents.

Opium Taken in Raid By Customs Officers

Asother haul of opium was made yesterday by customs inspectors Me-Nicoll, Miller and Oliviera when Lum Wal a poi dealer at Nuuanu and Kukui Streets was arrested for having unstamped opium in his pos-session. The officials confiscated about eight hundred dollars worth of the poppy drug. This included four tins and one round tin of the drug, the latter something which has not yet been found in Honolulu except on steamers. It had Jap-anese and Chinese characters both on its label. In addition to these there were a half dozen tins par-tially filled. The victim of the raid was released under bond.
